Read Across America Day

Story by Andrew Frinkle

Read Across America Day is in March. It is held on the school day closest to March 2nd. March 2nd was Dr. Seuss' birthday.

Dr. Seuss was a famous writer. Many children have read his books. He wrote 44 books! Some have even become movies. Do you know "The Cat in the Hat" or "Horton Hears a Who?"

To honor Dr. Seuss' birthday, schools all across America read books. Some special people may come to your school to read to you. Maybe you'll put on a silly hat for the day! It's a great day to read some of Dr. Seuss' famous books or some of your own favorites!
