

Christmas Eve

Poem By: Judie Eberhardt

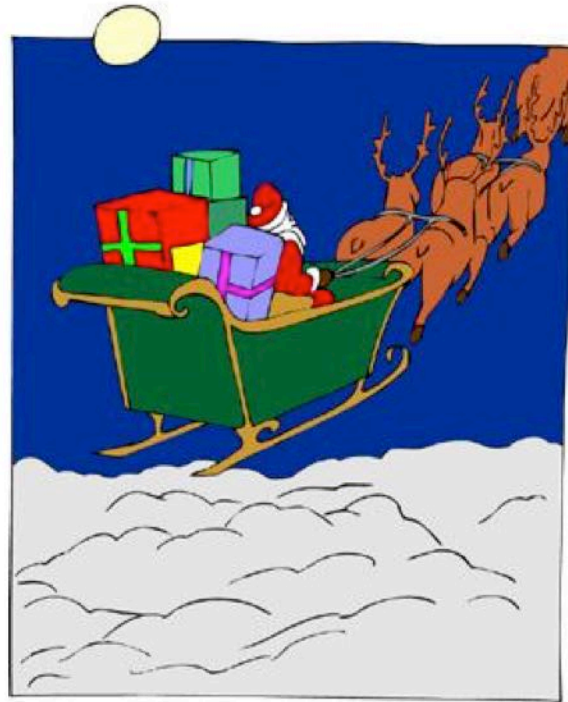

The Christmas tree is shining
With colors of red, green, and blue
Christmas cards have been arriving
Wishing Merry Christmas to you.

Santa's in his new sleigh
Piled high with many toys
The elves are helping quickly
With a list of good girls and boys.

Cookies and milk are waiting
There are carrots on a plate
Rudolph is so excited to ride
On this very important date.

The snow has begun to fall
It is piling up so quick
Get ready good boys and girls
To greet our friend, St. Nick.

The presents are now beneath the tree
A doll, a truck, a bicycle too
The cookies and carrots are gone for now
But I am so happy, what about you?
